Wish to correct the impression which is being circulated, viz: that they are making 10 per cent on the contracts which they negotiate. Let any schoolboy figure it out. You pay $5.50 per $1,000 per month, $5 of which is credited to your account, the 50c. going to the expense and reserve funds, $5.00 per month takes 200 months to pay $1,000; 50c. per month for 200 months is $100.00. This is $100 on $1,000 in 16 years and 8 months, which is only 3-5 of 1 per cent.

Canadian Waterways

Minister of Public Works Sees Strong Necessity For Improving Them.

What Mr. Tarte Learned on His Recent Trip on the Great Lakes.

Dominion Revenue For Month of July Shows a Large Increase.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 8.—Hon. J. Israel Tarte returned today from Parry Sound after a month's trip of inspection of towns and harbors of the Great Lakes and an investigation of the Georgian Bay canal route. The Minister of Public Works was greatly impressed with the possibilities of Canadian waterways with reference to the transportation of Canadian trade by these means. He thinks that the St. Lawrence and other Canadian routes should be better lighted and equipped and greatly admires the United States waterways for this reason. Mr. Tarte is of the opinion that the people of Canada will have to hustle and spend money if they want to be in a position to compete with the United States for the trade of the American continent. He is in favor of a general deepening of the harbors of the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence route as well as those of seaport towns. The Canada Gazette, issued today, on account of tomorrow being a holiday, has financial returns of Dominion for July. The amount of revenue received for the month was $4,272,587, compared with $3,800,337 for July last year, or an increase of $472,250. There was an increase in all the branches of the service.

MARCUS ISLAND.

Rosehill Directed to Bluff But Avoid a Conflict.

Honolulu, Aug. 8.—(Via San Francisco, Aug. 8.)—In reference to the Marcus Island dispute, it is stated that the United States fleet, which left the island left here with arms on board, was vessel until the news was received from Japan that Japan had laid claim to the island, and that the American fleet was to be sent to the island to land, or use force to drive them away. Capt. Rosehill's instructions from the company are to inform the Japanese on Marcus Island that his expedition is a scientific investigation of the value of the guano deposit of the island, and attempt to make a peaceful landing. In the event that the Japanese will refuse to allow him to land Rosehill is to sail away out of sight of the island and return under cover of darkness, land an armed force and raise the United States flag, and keep it up until it is torn down by a superior force. At the same time the captain was told to avoid a conflict in every way possible. In the event of his encountering a Japanese war vessel the commander of the expedition is to present his credentials as the discoverer of the island, and the agent of the Marcus Island Guano company, and to state that the object of his expedition is to make a scientific examination of the island for the guano. If the island was found to be of value the matter of ownership is to be referred to the United States and Japanese governments. If the officers of the war vessel still refuse to allow a landing, Captain Rosehill is instructed to start ashore with an unarmed force in a boat flying the United States flag and attempt to land and carry out the purposes of the expedition until physically restrained. The schooner commanded by Rosehill is the Julia E. Whalen. She has on board a crew of nine and taxidermists, and a Bryan of the Bishop Museum, Honolulu.

THE FAST LINE.
Statement Made in the House of Lords.
London, Aug. 8.—The House of Lords adjourned today to October 6. In response to inquiry just prior to the adjournment as to whether the government was taking steps looking to the establishment of a British Atlantic steamship service, Lord Onslow, under-secretary, said the question of a new Canadian service had nothing to do with the United States combine. Certain proposals had been submitted to the Canadian government, but the latter had not informed His Majesty's government of their purposes or asked assistance. The question of the establishment of a British service, however, was receiving their attention. Toronto, Aug. 8.—The Evening Telegram's London cable says: "Canadian ministers here have closed arrangements pending parliamentary action for a line of steamships to ply between Canada and South Africa." "Strong opinion exists among shippers and insurance men here that the Canadian line should end at Sydney or Halifax. Halifax undoubtedly is favored as between the two. It is argued that it would be useless to make either Quebec or Montreal a terminal point, as it is a dangerous course involving steamship accidents yearly. Weeks off the coast are also urged against the St. Lawrence river, and the fact that navigation is closed for six months of the year. The Ascents are agreed that the long railway journey from Sydney is a great objection to passengers from the West of Canada." "The Canadian Biscuit team sails on the Lake Simcoe on Tuesday next."

Tecumseh Wins The Second

Challenger Secures a Race In the International Cup Series.

She Has Her Own Weather and Makes the Most of It.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—Tecumseh won the second race in the Savannah cup series today, after a most interesting contest, by 1 minute 22 seconds. The course was three times round a triangle, the first a beat to windward, the second a reach, the third a free run. The wind was never more than three-quarters strong, falling off somewhat towards the end, while the water was calm. It was Tecumseh's weather, and she defeated Trident by outfooting her. She was, however, outpointed. The result was a race in doubt until the end of the third heat. At the start Tecumseh secured the windward position, and in spite of some jockeying, retained it, but she gradually fell off to leeward and was 35 seconds behind at the first buoy. She gained in the reach, to lose again in the run, but making far better time than Trident at the end of the first round, got the windward position for the second heat. Tecumseh, however, sailed through her lee and obtained a good lead, which she lost again by a shift of wind favoring the challenger. The fourth buoy was passed almost simultaneously, and the Oakshott boat gained half a minute by the end of the round. Here Trident gained again by smart handling and got the position and the lead for the last beat, and it looked as if she would win out. The challenger, however, pointed better and was stiffer in the lighter breeze and got the advantage in a series of short trades, leading by 58 seconds at the seventh buoy and steadily left her rival behind. She is undoubtedly a very fine light weather boat and her racing qualities are remarkable. The official time was:
First Second Final.
Tecumseh .. 2:45:53 3:34:57 4:22:25 Trident .. 2:47:45 3:35:13 4:23:47
The elapsed times were:
Tecumseh—First round, 62:53; second round, 47:04; third round, 47:28; fourth round, 2:27:25.
Trident—First round, 62:46; second round, 47:28; third round, 45:34; fourth round, 2:28:47.

FOREST FIRES
ROUND KASLO

Railway Track Burned For Three Miles—Blue Ridge Threatened.

Kaslo, B. C., Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Kaslo is literally surrounded by raging bush fires, which are sweeping down the mountain side from three different directions. One fire is within three miles of the city limits, just behind the cemetery. The air is thick with smoke and falling ashes. The water fire is several miles away at the Blue Ridge mine, and fears are entertained for the safety of the mine. Every preparation is made for fighting the flames. The Kaslo & Slovan railway track is burned for three miles. A relief train was sent out from Sandon to get the passengers.

BLOWN UP.

Load of Nitro-Glycerine Explodes and Kills Two Men.

Bradford, Pa., Aug. 8.—Joseph Gilson, 41 years old, and Joseph Geraghty, both of Bradford, were instantly killed near here today about 10 a.m., by the explosion of a load of nitro-glycerine. There were 40 ten-quart cans of the explosive in the wagon, and the team of horses and the wagon also went up with the flash of fire that accompanied the explosion. A hole was torn in the ground eight feet deep and twenty feet across. Trees were blown down, and a large boulder was carried 300 yards and driven deep into the earth. The cause of the explosion is unknown.

EMPEROR SAILS AWAY.

Courtesies Exchanged Between Germans and Russians.

Reval, Russia, Aug. 8.—The German Imperial yacht Hohenzollern, with Emperor William on board, sailed for Visby, Sweden, this afternoon. During their stay here the Czar and Emperor were constantly together, and the intercourse was of the most cordial character. Count von Bulow and Count Lamsdorff also were in prolonged conferences. Before his departure, the German Emperor conferred the Red Eagle on a number of Russian officials and naval officers. The Czar presented his portrait to Count von Bulow, and conferred the Alexander-Nevsky order on Count von Alvensleben, the German ambassador to Russia.

Catches Are Good

Salmon Running Two Hundred to the Boat on the Fraser.

But Rough Weather May Have Caused Casualties Among the Men.

Vancouver Paper Publishes Report of Railway and Ferry Negotiations.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 8.—With seven canneries shut down, and but 42 canneries working on the Fraser, the pack promises to be much larger than anticipated. It is estimated at the present time that 220,000 cases have been put up. The report from the traps is "no fish," but purse nets are making good hauls at the salmon banks. Another heavy catch was made on the river last night, while the boats this morning are reported catching 200 and 300 in a drift. The following 14 canneries have reported the average catch for last night and the total pack to date:

Cannery	Average Pack	Total Pack
Cleve	30	5,000
St. Munro	150	3,000
Wellington	300	4,400
Anglo-Canadian	400	4,000
Scottish Canadian	170	9,300
Phoenix	170	8,500
Corra	200	4,000
Richmond	180	3,540
Dunsmore	211	3,800
Star	150	11,000
Beaver	220	4,063
Gulf of Georgia	300	11,903
English Bay	150	5,000
Celtic	175	2,000

Thus the total average catch was practically 200 to the boat. Last night was another very rough night on the river, and according to reports system fatalities may be looked for. The Atlas cannery reports a boat marked P. G. 732, fishing off Point Grey, missing since Monday night. The Phoenix cannery reports a boat marked M. S. 324, out since Monday, with no tidings of boat or men. Gulf of Georgia cannery reports a boat marked E. O. 2019 missing since Monday night. Two or three boats were reported swamped and several cases of net cutting are being investigated. Detectives believe they have a clue to the whereabouts of the man who murdered Louis Routhilllette on the Yukon river. A policeman of the Northwest Mounted police force is here attempting to follow up the clue.

The Province publishes a story this evening that the City Council of Vancouver has held a special meeting with John Hendry, of the Vancouver-Yukon railway regarding a proposal for the purchase of the Victoria Terminal city ferry system, the railway company. The Province further publishes a story that two meetings of vital importance to the prospective Vancouver-Yukon road have been held between Mr. Hendry and J. I. Hill's representative in the city yesterday, and that last night Mr. Hendry left for Seattle to interview J. I. Hill.

The steamer Cassiar brings word from Alert Bay that Capt. Loftus, an old timer, was so mangled beneath the wheels of a logging engine at the Wolf-solm's Bay logging camp, that he died from his injuries. The remains were brought to Van Anda and interred. The British Columbia government has been asked to look into certain trade matters in the Orient for the Dominion government, will leave here on the outgoing Empress, August 18. The Trades and Labor council have rescinded a resolution admitting the press to their meetings. Joe Fortes, the colored swimming instructor and special policeman at English Bay, has held a special coroner's inquest that he had saved 11 lives in one week. A raft is anchored about 100 yards from shore, and new beginners are usually ambitious to swim as far as the raft. In almost every case of rescue, a woman or child, while essaying to swim to the raft, had become frightened, and in each case Joe was on hand to swim with them to safety. Fortes remains in the water every day, and has been there four and four hours in the afternoon, and has taught scores of women and children to swim in the past two months. Mr. Brown, of Brown & Howie, returned from Vancouver this morning. He states that it is an ideal country for ranching, and with transportation facilities there will be a rush to settle there.

TO WIND UP.

Woolen Mills Company Is Highly Capitalized.

Montreal, Aug. 8.—Application has been made to the Supreme court for a winding-up order for the Canadian Woolen Mills company, which has a capitalization of $2,000,000, of which $1,100,000 is common stock, $400,000 preferred stock and $500,000 first mortgage bonds. The John Manville company, of New York, control the bond issue and are large shareholders of the common and preferred stock. It is explained that the company's capitalization has been found too great and the present method of raising money is not continued and trade creditors will not be affected.

QUEEN'S GOOD WORK.

Assisting Soldiers' and Sailors' Family Association.

London, Aug. 8.—The Queen, looking particularly well, presided today at a meeting of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Families association at Queen's hall. The Misses Mary and Mrs. Mary Lettens Tooth, the Australian, who presented $50,000 to the King for the hospital fund, had given the Queen a similar sum, which Her Majesty desired to devote to the work of the association, and that the Queen's appeal in January had brought in $1,500,000, making the total public subscriptions to the association during and since the war, $5,500,000. Large crowds gathered on the route to and from the palace and warmly cheered the Queen.

FISHING TRIP.

Steamer Trader Now Carrying a Party North.

Nanaimo, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Steamer Trader sailed here this evening and will remain until the morning, when she proceeds to Comox for coal and thence North. She has on board Admiral Ross, Sir Richard Alexander and Mr. Forbes G. Alexander, who have a six-weeks' charter of the steamer "Six Bells" expedition.

THE EVE OF CORONATION

London Busily Putting Last Touches to the Preparations for Today.

London, Aug. 8.—The eve of the coronation of King Edward VII. was marked in London by large crowds which wandered all the evening through the semi-illuminated streets down Whitehall, where the Canadian arch was the centre of attraction, around Westminster Abbey and along the Strand, where the sidewalks were blocked with the populace.

The brilliancy of the illumination held the country visitors to the city so spell-bound that vehicle traffic became more and more difficult as the night wore on. Until a very late hour the stand spectators did a thriving business, and around these stands in good locations there were thousands of people anxious to get seats at the last moment. Many of the thousands who were in the city, the streets exhibited unmistakable signs of an intention to sit up all night in the hope of securing a free coin of vantage from which to view tomorrow's procession. Workmen were busy putting the finishing touches to the Abbey and its approaches, and every detail of this work was watched eagerly by the spectators. In an undramatic sort of way London was transformed by the multitudes wishing to see any part of the ceremonies into a city of great unrest. The idea of sleep or any adequate allowance of time for rest has been quite given up by the people in the streets, and underlying this intensity of expectation there is curious nervousness among the majority lest they should awaken from their slumber and find that they have missed the great event once more postponed.

The public enthusiasm is tempered by heartfelt relief over the passing shadow which so recently overcast the Empire. King Edward passed a busy day at Buckingham Palace, and did not appear to the public at all. At a late hour tonight he was reported as feeling strong and looking forward to tomorrow's ceremonies without the least nervousness.

Acting upon medical advice, Lord Salisbury has obtained the King's permission to absent himself from the coronation. Lord Salisbury will shortly leave for the continent. One of the most curious incidents of the coronation will be the appearance of the uniform of the Salvation Army in Westminster Abbey. It is generally directed that a representative of the Salvation Army should be invited to the coronation, and Brannwell Booth has been appointed to attend the ceremony. A difficulty arose about the uniform he should wear, and the earl marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, intimated that he was not authorized to recognize the uniform of the Salvation Army. Mr. Booth thereupon withdrew, but then he requested permission to wear the uniform of the Salvation Army. This His Majesty readily gave. Mr. Booth will appear in the uniform of his rank in the Army.

COAL STRIKE.

President Mitchell Says Settlement Will Be Reached.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 8.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, said today that he would not go to Michigan to take part in the conference between the coal operators and the striking miners. He said that a settlement satisfactory to each side would be reached shortly. T. E. Loomis, vice-president of the United Mine Workers, said that he was in the city with a view of reporting actual conditions as he finds them to the presidents of the coal-mining railroad, who have completed his mission and will probably make his report to the operators at a meeting to be held in New York tomorrow.

NEW POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

Austin Chamberlain Succeeds London-derry to the Post.

London, Aug. 8.—The official announcement was made today that Austin Chamberlain, son of the Colonial Secretary, has been appointed postmaster-general, vice the Marquis of Londonderry, resigned.

The appointment of Sir Wm. Hood Walpole to the chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster, in place of Lord James of Hereford, was also officially announced today.

Since Austin Chamberlain will have a seat in the cabinet, the rare spectacle will be furnished of both father and son holding cabinet rank simultaneously.

It is said that a new office, that of minister of education, has been created, to which the Marquis of Londonderry has been appointed.

The Earl of Dudley has been appointed Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; Charles Thomas Ritchie, chancellor of the exchequer, and Aretas Akers-Douglas, home secretary.

The premier, A. J. Balfour, today announced the appointment of the following commission of inquiry into the condition of the Boer war: The Earl of Elgin, chairman; Sir Henry Norman, Sir John Hopkins, Lord Exeter and Sir John Edge.

As intimated in the despatches yesterday, the agreement made in Belfast that an agreement had been reached between the Admiralty and the Morgan shipping combine was premature. Negotiations on details of the agreement are still proceeding, and it is believed that every promise of success in the House of Commons this afternoon the premier, A. J. Balfour, said the government had been engaged in negotiations connected with and arising from circumstances connected with the formation of the shipping combine. "Unfortunately we are not yet in a position to make a statement to the House," said Mr. Balfour, "the evidence in the country is very contradictory. I am in a position to say that when the House meets again we shall be in a position to take it into our confidence."

A PLEASANT DUTY.—"When I know anything worthy of recommendation, I consider it my duty to tell it," says Rev. James Murdoch, of Hamburg, Pa. "Dr. Agnew's Catarrh Powder has cured me of Catarrh of the bladder. It is certainly magical in its effects. The first application benefited me in five minutes."

Voyage With The C. M. R.

Victorian Writes of His Experiences on Trip to South Africa.

Life Aboard Troop-Ship—Crossing the Line—Kaffirs at Durban—In Camp.

Trooper Ovington Watt, Fifth Regiment, C. M. R. (date of No. 1 company, Fifth Regiment, Victoria), writes a letter to his parents, dated from Durban, Natal, June 28, says:

"We heard peace had been officially declared when we reached Capetown, where we had only been a few hours when orders were received to sail for Durban. We got a splendid beach stretching for miles along the coast. It reminded me of Tynemouth, or Roker, Sunderland, England. We got a splendid view of Table Mountain and the surrounding country. Considering it is the middle of winter here, the weather is remarkable. It is just like the summer in Canada. We kept along the coast all the way to Durban, which took us three days to reach from the Cape. We have come nearly 9,000 miles on this old tub (the SS. Coriambus), having been aboard exactly 31 days. It will be with exceeding great joy that we will set our feet on terra firma again. We have had a splendid voyage, the weather being excellent. Of course there were a lot of inconveniences, but then we didn't expect to travel first-class. We brought about 500 horses and only lost 14, which is very few, considering how the poor brutes are boxed up in the hold, and then down a turn round. The Strathcona lost 130, but they had very rough weather."

We had quite a lot of fun on board during the voyage. We saw any amount of porpoises, flying fish, seals, and a few whales. The second Saturday out we had sports in the afternoon. I won 15 shillings. The next day, Sunday, the colonel inspected us in the morning, with church service afterwards.

On Wednesday, June 11, we crossed the line, when the usual ceremony was gone through. King Neptune and family came aboard and the fun began. He was his big box set up against a large tank of water. You were made to sit on this box, when you were soaped and shaved in the usual manner, which wasn't very inviting. I can assure you that you were least expecting it, when you were picked up and thrown head first into the huge tank, clothes and all. Not a very pleasant sensation, I can assure you. Lots of the officers underwent this very amusing operation. I need not say that I enjoyed it after I crawled out of the tank. I never had more fun in my life, while I was watching the others, but when it came to my turn I found it very amusing.

The following was the daily routine on board. The butlers sound the gong at 5 a. m. 5:45 to 6:45, morning stables; 7, breakfast; 8:30, sick parade; 9 to 11, drill; 11:30 to 12 noon, stables; 12:30 p. m., dinner; 2 till 4 p. m., afternoon parade; 4:15 to 4:45, evening stables; 5 p. m., supper; 6, hot water bottles; 10:15 p. m., lights out, when every man is supposed to be in his hammock.

We take our hammocks and blankets on deck and sleep most nights, where it is cool and refreshing. Everything is very well disciplined on board, and the meals not at all bad. There is a piano in the saloon, where we have a concert occasionally. Billy Mulvey is enjoying the trip and in good health and spirits. We have lots of fun together; boys will be boys, you know.

June 23.—Alongside wharf, Durban. Next morning, when the accommodation here, we have to wait their turn. There was great excitement on board when we ran alongside. On the wharf were a great many negroes—Kaffirs—who do all the laboring work. The place was full of them. I have seen a good many funny sights, but this one beats all. They were nearly all in rags—such ragged beggars' descriptions: old rags, khalis, red rags, blue rags, khalis—some with puttees on, and all sorts and descriptions of hats. A sight for the gods! We started throwing down coppers to them. There were some great and small and some very small. We threw them some meat, biscuits, bread, etc., which they ate as if they had not seen a bite for a month. It was great fun.

June 26.—(Coronation Day)—We are in the harbor in Durban, and it is very difficult to write. I am just sitting on a stool writing on my knee. There are two Australian regiments here, alongside us. They have just arrived. We expect to be sent home any time now—worse luck. However, I have decided to get my discharge here and try my luck with some more chums of the Fifth Regiment. The celebrations here are going to be pretty fair. We landed in the town this afternoon.

June 28.—In camp Durban. Still undecided, but likely to be sent home; both Australian regiments embarked for home yesterday. The Second C. M. R. is to be sent home, and the other two are to be sent to the Cape. I am going to stay with this country, and so, I think, are McKenzie, Davis, and New Westminister, and some others. White men are in great demand. I am in splendid health and spirits, and when I return home in a few years I hope to have something worth bringing.

Victoria's First Flower Show

Splendid Exhibition of Natural Beauty at Douglas Summer Gardens.

Thousands Enjoy the Treat Presented by the Horticultural Society.

The first flower show held by the Victoria Horticultural society in the Douglas gardens yesterday, was a decided success, the exhibits being numerous and without exception splendid specimens of their classes. The show was a pleasant surprise to the committee of management, for the proposal to hold an exhibition was made only six weeks ago, and it was feared that the public would not respond so generally to the invitation to compete. The number of entries which poured in under the secretary's hand, however, dispelled the feeling of misgiving, and by Thursday evening the only problem which the committee had to face was to make room for all the magnificent specimens of bloom presented.

Five large marquees had been set up on the lawn in front of the old government house, and these were filled to their capacity with a gorgeous collection of color and perfume, and in fact if a fault could be found with the show it would be that the exhibits were rather too crowded to permit a full enjoyment of their beauty.

One of the most attractive exhibits in dinner table decorations in which the ladies competing have displayed little artistic taste. The arrangements were so nearly equal in point of beauty that the judges hesitated to award the prize, and decided that the question should be left to ballot. Another interesting feature, which attracted much attention, was a live hive of bees in a glass case, which attracted a number of visitors to see every detail of the work of the industrious little honey makers.

The attendance of visitors was large, the stand being well filled during the afternoon, while in the evening between 1,500 and 2,000 people were present, and all were delighted with the show.

In the evening the grounds and tents were brilliantly and artistically decorated with an enchanting picture as the hundreds of gaily attired ladies moved about among the trees and crowded the marquees, the bloom of their faces rivaling that of the blossoms over which they bent in delight. The music of the Fifth Regiment band completed the enjoyment of the evening.

The question was heard hundreds of times during the day, and evening, "Why is this Victoria's first flower show, why is there not one every year?" It certainly strikes one as remarkable that Victoria, with all her wealth of flowers, has not made flower shows one of her chief events of every summer. Praise is therefore due to the gentlemen who inaugurated this show, and have worked so admirably in making it a success.

It may be remembered that Mayor Hayward called a public meeting to discuss the holding of a flower show, some six weeks ago. The meeting was but a slimly attended, and a second one was called for the same purpose, did not bring together a baker's dozen. There were a few flower lovers, however, who determined to make an effort to carry the proposal through, and they formed a committee and set to work. This little band of enthusiasts comprised Mayor Hayward, chairman; F. B. Pemberton, honorary treasurer; P. W. Palmer, honorary secretary; and Messrs. James and Gage. It is to these gentlemen that the thanks of the citizens of Victoria are due for a very creditable flower show, which is believed to have been one of a series of such exhibitions. Many citizens assisted the committee with generous donations of money, but upon the gentlemen named devoted the whole of their own organization, and they have performed their self-imposed task wonderfully well, considering the short time they had for perfecting it. Special praise is due to the honorary secretary, whose untiring efforts insured the success of the show.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Today the King is crowned, and we hope without misadventure or evil omen.
The mutual relations between himself and the people, the solemn obligations under which he lays himself as the head and representative of his people are ratified today in a ceremonial whose essentially sacred qualities are not extinguished by its mitigated splendor.
King Edward stands higher in the affections of British subjects everywhere, not merely because of the feeling of sympathy naturally stirred with a suffering fellow creature, but also through their realization of his unfailing good humor and thoughtfulness of others in his affliction. The coronation as originally planned was to be a vast pageant of Imperial pomp and majesty, in which King Edward would have been the central figure, elevated by the greatness of his station and the reflected glory of the Empire, to a pitch of mysterious grandeur. Suddenly we were called upon to sympathize with a man smitten hard by some obscure disease of his baser parts, and under the surgeon's knife. No contrast was ever more startling between the scene of worldly glory, and the ephemeral existence of man. But that very contrast brought the King closer to us all, and has knit the hearts of his people to himself with an almost personal understanding. We hope that a long and happy reign is ahead of King Edward, the British Empire is becoming more wedded to the monarchy year by year without becoming less jealous of liberty.
We are learning to know that under our system of government the liberties of the people are better guarded than under any which has yet been devised; and that a constitutional monarchy, holding as it does the executive power beyond the region of party strife, and thus divesting its manifestations of the suspicion of partizan inspiration, yet at the same time subjecting it to due control under representative institutions, if it is not the ideal form of government, is the nearest approach to it which the world has yet witnessed. Loyalty is with us not an irrational instinct, but a well reasoned attachment to the Crown as the symbol of our unity and the emblem of our power. Where the element of personal respect for the occupant of the throne is not absent, so much the better. A worthy embodiment of the action which the Crown in the person of a worthy King, is a safeguard to the monarchy, for, just as the church is judged by its clergy, so the Crown is estimated by its wearers. In this respect we are happy in King Edward. He is congenial to the character of the English-speaking race. Without affectation or absurd pretensions, he has nevertheless a proper pride in himself, and the dignity of his office. He possesses sound judgment, tact and unfailing good humor, and these are qualities sufficiently rare in ordinary men to be highly admirable in a king. King Edward is, we hope, destined to see great developments in the combined expansion and closer union of the race of whose destinies he is the dignified representative.
May he live long and may the end of his reign be even more glorious than its beginning! May he transmit to a worthy heir the noble heritage of character he himself received from an august mother!

These are the prayers of British subjects all over the world today.

IMPRESSIONS OF VICTORIA.

The official diary of the Duke and Duchess of York, now Prince and Princess of Wales, during their Imperial tour, has been published in a very handsome volume illustrated by the most exquisite plates. The book is called the "Web of Empire," and traces the itinerary of the Royal tour through all the portions of the Empire visited. The pages which deal with Victoria pay the Colonist newspaper the very high compliment of making a long excerpt from its columns, as giving an adequate expression of the loyal feelings of the people, and one exceedingly pleasing to the recipients of our hospitality on that occasion. So far as a cursory examination of the book goes, the Colonist is the only newspaper made use of in this way. The paragraph in question, from the impression it made upon the Prince of Wales gives an inkling of the kind of relations between our Royal House and the peoples, which its members take a pride in being able to establish and maintain. We quote the portion of the book dealing with Victoria:

Tuesday, 1st of October—When we got up in the morning we were treading our way among a number of islets in the strait, the Duke and Duchess of York, and the Marquis and Marchioness of Cambridge, and the Marquis and Marchioness of Amphion and Phœon of the Pacific squadron, the arrival at Victoria is very impressive, bright sunshine, not a ripple on the blue waters of the gulf, the ships in the harbor decorated with bunting and evergreens, the Pacific squadron thundering a Royal salute, a pavilion, charmingly situated, little city of over 20,000 inhabitants, surrounded by pine woods and thousands of loyal citizens shouting a hearty British welcome.
The addresses were read in front of the beautiful Parliament buildings, which need not fear comparison even with those of Ottawa. Indeed the city in general has something of the character of the Dominion capital, and it has the advantage of overlooking the sea, with a magnificent panorama of mountains in the distance. Among the deputations which presented addresses is one from the American-English League of the American town of Seattle, who declare that though American citizens the sons of Britons never lose their pride of ancestry, and that they are anxious to children their affection for the Mother Country, her glorious traditions and her many virtues. The rest of the day is very fully occupied. Their Royal Highnesses first drive to Esquimalt, and then with Admiral Bickford on board his flagship, the Warspite; thence to a suburban at the other end of the town to open formally an exhibition of British Columbian products; next to Oak Bay, about three miles from Victoria, where we were all very comfortably lodged in a summer hotel on the sea shore. Finally there is a state dinner at the Governor-General's residence, Sir Henri Joly de Lotbinière, followed by a reception in the Parliamentary buildings, where the Duke and Duchess shake hands with over 500 people. The dinner an amusing little incident occurred. A very old lady, who was sitting next to the Duke, supposed that he was a young member of the suite, and did not discover her mistake until late in the evening.

Wednesday, 2nd October—A comparatively idle day. In the morning we write letters or stroll about on the seashore enjoying the lovely view of the islet with Mount Baker, and the American coast of 14,000 feet in the distance. After lunch the Duchess is allowed a half holiday, and employs it paying, with the Duke, an informal visit to the Royal Jubilee hospital. Some of us make a charming excursion on a torpedo boat destroyer to the quiet harbor of Esquimalt, and in the afternoon the Duke and Duchess have returned to the Empress of India, which is waiting to take us back to Vancouver. At last we are turning our faces homeward, and in a month hence we shall be in England.
"There seems no doubt in this United Thule of the Empire the loyalty is as staunch and true as in any of the leading organs of Victoria voiced the popular sentiment:

"The royal reception is over. The echoes of the cheers have died away. The lights, which made the city a fairy land, have been extinguished. And what remains? Not simply loyalty to the Mother Land, our King and our institutions, for this we always felt to such a degree that it could not be intensified.
Not simply a sense of the greatness and unity of the Empire, for this we have always realized and we have cemented the bond of union with the blood of our best manhood. Something else remains, and it is something new, something that the people have never felt before. It is a feeling of personal affection and esteem for the Heir Apparent and the gracious lady whose life, happiness and future are so closely bound up with his.
This is the good-bye message which the Colonist gives them from the people of Victoria: They came, they saw, they conquered. They conquered not by pomp and pageantry, but by their gentleness and courtesy, by that subtle force which goes out unseen from honest hearts. They have gained a personal triumph. We would have welcomed them under any circumstances, because the Duke is the son of our King and the grandson of our late beloved Queen. We bade them good-bye with regret, because they have won our love. In the years to come the people of Victoria will watch the career of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York with a new interest. If the effect of this memorable tour has been the same in all places as in this city, it seems no exaggeration to say that its initiation by Her late Majesty was a political inspiration. One lesson of the late visit is that we have in the Heir Apparent one who will find no difficulty in keeping alive the confidence of the British people in the monarchy, and in the reigning house as the custodians of the prerogatives of the crown."

Tut! Tut! Tut! We still think that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is a very much overrated man in whom eloquence and suavity take the place of the sterner qualities of leadership, who has toyed with all the great questions confronting Canada, but who has not laid the hand of a strong man on any of them. He has played with Oriental immigration, with the railway question, with the interests of labor, with the tariff, with preferential trade, and in regard to not one of these issues has any definite line been marked out as the course of the Dominion of Canada. He is now playing with Imperial federation, and the Atlantic fast line of steamships. And whether it is that he is unable to conceal the best of his own mind, or merely betrays the exigencies of his position by the course he pursues, the people of Canada are daily coming both to know him better and to like him less.

We publish a letter this morning from the views of the British opposition to

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE CORONATION.
Sir,—Thirty years ago, in answer to the nation's prayers, the heir to the throne was brought up from the gates of the grave.
Again he came to us, and in his presence restored but from an illness more terrifying to flesh and blood, and under circumstances still more suggestive of the eternal life, the same impression may have been given to others, and both sides should be heard. At the same time this question is of purely academic interest in British Columbia. We have heard questions enough without raising discussions on those from which we are fortunately free.

Should any of your readers be not otherwise engaged in this duty, they are most cordially invited to join with us in our half-hour service this morning (Saturday) at 10:30 o'clock, after which they may participate with a more contented mind to themselves. "Go your way; eat the fat, them for whom nothing is prepared."

BRITISH POLITICS.
Sir,—In a late issue of the Colonist you have an article on "British Politics," which did not strike me to be written with your usual fairness and full information—at least in parts of it. Especially when reference is made to the educational bill before the Imperial House of Commons, you say "what this bill is, what it actually does, we have not yet been able to discover," and then you proceed to refer to the outside statements of the opponents of the bill, as if they were fair and true statements, and as if you agreed that the bill was "an attempt to put the part of the Church of England to reassert control of religious teaching in the public schools." In this connection the phrase "educational bill" is used, as if churchmen were seeking for charity and unfair assistance in their educational work. Churchmen do not allow the correctness of these allegations; they seem to them foolish and mere claptrap, and statements used for want of better arguments to overthrow their position on educational questions. Please let me state my conception of the purposes of the bill; if, come between the two, the bill is of religion as a necessary basis of real education, and of course having convictions on these matters, they wish to apply them in their methods of instruction. Now while the bill allows churchmen to do this, it allows other denominations the same liberty. What, then, is the unfairness of

Tut! Tut! Tut! We still think that
rated man in whom eloquence and
suavity take the place of the sterner
qualities of leadership, who has toyed
Canada, but who has not laid the hand of a strong man on any of them. He has played with Oriental immigration,
with the railway question, with the in-
preferential trade, and in regard to not
been marked out as the course of the Dominion of Canada. He is now playing with Imperial federation, and the Atlantic fast line of steamships. And whether it is that he is unable to conceal the best of his own mind, or merely betrays the exigencies of his position by
the course he pursues, the people of Canada are daily coming both to know him better and to like him less.

While there will be no official celebration of Coronation Day in Victoria, with the exception of the exercises by the naval and military authorities, the loyal city of the West will by way of means overlook the fact that this is a day which should be properly observed.
Every hour of the morning, afternoon, and evening is to be taken up with events which should be of interest to the public. The city has already been decorated, and to add to the public efforts in this direction, most of the business houses have been hung with flags and bunting, and in the evening will be the effect of the illuminations with brightly lighted electric globes of all colors and the ever pretty Japanese and Chinese lanterns. The city looks well tonight, and will be much brighter this evening, when all the lights are turned on, showing off the yards of bunting and flags of all nations which line the streets and hide the telephone poles and stores from view.

As is proper, there will be services in most of the churches of the city this morning. At Christ church cathedral the service will be conducted by order of the King, in all the Anglican churches of the United Kingdom, will be rendered; in the Reformed Episcopal church there will be service at the usual hour, and at St. Andrew's R. C. church, a solemn high mass will be celebrated.
There will also be a service at the Temple Emanuel.

The sports will commence with the J.
B. A. A. regatta at 9:30 a. m.; the lacrosse match commences at 10 at the Caledonia grounds; there will be the military services at Work Point shortly after noon, and on H. M. ships at Esquimalt. The navy will have services, and will fire a Royal salute. The Fifth Regiment will not take part in the military services. In the afternoon there are the championship tennis matches at the Belcher street courts; Societies' Reunion at the Caledonia grounds, a baseball match at Oak Bay, and cricket matches at Beacon Hill and at Work Point barracks. In the evening the Nanaimo and the Fifth Regiment bands will give concerts on the streets, and the Fifth Regiment band will show up at the Douglas gardens, and in conclusion a concert by the massed bands in front of the Parliament buildings.
The city will be illuminated, as will H.
M. ships at Esquimalt. The programme to be rendered by the Fifth Regiment band at the Douglas summer gardens is as follows:

1. Coronation Prize March—Percy Godfrey (Dedicated by permission to His Majesty King Edward VII.)
2. Overture—Morning, Noon and Night March—Percy Godfrey
3. The Marchioness—Percy Godfrey
4. Fantasia—Reminiscences of England (Dedicated by permission to Percy Godfrey) 5. STEREOTYPIC VIEWS (Showing operations of the Arctic Slope Mining Co., in the Golden Omineca)
6. Violent Selections by the "Big Four" Quartet—Messrs. Sehl, Finn, Leroy and Cooper.
7. The Marchioness—Percy Godfrey 8. Grand American Fantasia—Tone Pictures of the North and South—Bendix Lopes (The "Hundred Year Flag")—Finn
God Save the King.

Another attraction for the evening will be the boxing tourney at Pilliarhall, under the auspices of the Victoria Athletic club.
Yesterday's steamers and trains brought many visitors, and more will come today.

HOSPITAL GARDEN FETE.
Worthy Object For Which It Is to Be Held.

The annual garden party in aid of the working fund, the Women's Auxiliary Hospital, is fixed to take place this year at the Douglas gardens, Belleville street, on Wednesday, August 20, from 3 to 10 p. m. The fete is under the kind patronage of the Commander-in-Chief and Mrs. Bickford, Col. Grant, R. E., and Mrs. Grant. His Worship the Mayor, the President and Executive Committee Women's Auxiliary Society and the President and Board of Directors, Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, The Daughters of Pitt will take their usual prominent and helpful part in the management, thereby insuring the success of the entertainment.

The special object of this year is to provide funds to complete payment on the sterilizing apparatus, which is being installed at the hospital by the Women's Auxiliary, and which has been a most long-felt need.

The kindness and patronage of the city is solicited for the occasion, and public and private members of the society are begged to contribute either cake, sandwiches, home-made candy, choice cut flowers (for hot-house), or small ticulars will appear later.

HIS BODY FOUND.

Loggers Believe That They Have Located Hussey's Remains.

When Johnnie Tackum, now held for the murder of John Card, a logger, shot by him some month ago at Toba Inlet, committed that crime, he was also believed to have killed Hussey, Card's partner, whose coat and hat were found after the tragedy. No trace of Hussey's body was found, however. Now Superintendent Hussey, of the Provincial police has received a communication from W. H. Higgins, the well known logging contractor, which points to the fact that the body was found in the vicinity of Tackum or his friends in the bush 18 miles from the scene of the crime. Mr. Higgins says that some of his men while at work in the timber noticed an unpleasant smell, as though of a decaying body at a place on Toba Inlet where Indians had felled a number of trees. The Indians discouraged investigation, saying that there were deadly and traps in the vicinity which would probably cause injury to anyone going there, and from other actions of the Indians, the loggers believe they are anxious to prevent people going near the scene. That the logs have been probably felled to hide a body is evident from the fact that no person engaged in hand logging would have felled timbers there, as they cannot be got out.
Ann, the blood-chamber of Johnnie Tack-um, the Indian held for murder, has been seen often near the scene, and her actions are suspicious, she giving conflicting reasons for her presence there.
Higgins believes that Hussey's remains are hidden there, as Johnnie Tackum was seen bound up the inlet the day after the murder, and was seen bound down the day after. The spot in question will be examined by the provincial police.

It was reported from Vancouver a few days ago that Hussey's body had been found at this place, but as for some time he learned the remains have not been identified up to the present.

Two trips to Port Angeles, Sunday, August 10. Steamer City of Nanaimo sails from C. P. N. wharf at 9 a. m. and 2 p. m. Only 50 cents return.

The Outlook For Copper

Experienced Miner Expresses Confidence In The Future of the Industry.

Copper Can Be Profitably Mined at 11 and 12 Cents Per Ton.

C. M. Palmer, of Boston, one of the best known copper operators in America, said in an interview at Butte, Montana, "I do not share in the belief that at 11 and 12 cents a pound copper cannot be mined at a profit. With higher prices it is apparent that the volume of the volume of consumption will be materially reduced, and this at a time when new properties are continually being opened and developed, is bound to result in such an overproduction as will be disastrous. With the price of copper at the first-named figure, I am confident there will be a market for all that can be mined. Copper consumers do not take readily to the substitution of other metals except in times when they think the ruling price is excessive.

"Indications point to a large advance in the volume of production within the next ten years. At the present time the Lake Superior district is not touched. There is a belt extending 150 miles or more that will some day be one continuous copper producing section. A few mines have been developed in the region, but exploration and prospecting is now in progress, and when the proper times comes active operations will be commenced. Considerable work is also being done in Arizona. The activity is particularly noticeable in the vicinity of Bisbee, and in the neighborhood of the United Verde properties. Mining experts believe that the trend will continue to develop into large copper producers.

"The copper mines of Mexico are also attracting the attention of investors and development work and exploration is being pushed by companies holding concessions. The great ore bodies of Alaska are still untouched. It is known that there is copper all along the coast, but it is not as yet demonstrated how far down operations need to be extended to get at the best of the copper deposits. Patsy Clark of Spokane, bonded a property on the southern coast recently, and while he did not go sufficiently deep to uncover the main ore body, it is known to exist, and when transportation makes the country accessible the result will be the beginning of operations on a large scale. Together these new mining districts will so materially increase the total of production that it will be impossible to maintain fictitious prices without purchasing the industry.

"In my opinion copper can be mined at a net cost of 9 cents a pound, and a ruling price of 11 1/2 cents gives a better margin of profit than is to be obtained in the average commercial enterprise. Since I first came to Butte, and since the first organization of the Butte and Boston companies, the processes of smelting and reduction have been marvelously transformed. It is but reasonable to suppose that new and improved methods will be found to possess merit. The consumers of copper are familiar with the cost of mining and will resent vigorously any attempt to make them pay more than a fair price for the metal. The cost of production. This resentment will take the form of using other metals, although it has been found that copper is preferred at the right price. From what I have been able to learn, there is no danger of aluminum being used as a substitute to any considerable extent."

COPPER KING.

More Equipment for the Coronation Group.

Nanaimo, Aug. 8.—(Special).—The management of the Coronation Mining group are so impressed with the indications on the Copper King claim that they have added several pieces of new equipment to the staff during the week. Tomorrow the secretary, J. W. Munroe, of this city, and some others of the company leave for Mount Sicker with hoisting plant and horse, which will be used to provide power for a hoist at present.

PILOT BAY MINES.

Tunnel in Great Dane Has Reached Ore—Work on Other Properties.

The crosscut tunnel which is being driven on the Great Dane property is believed to have reached the ore at a point 223 feet in. Reports are that the ore was broken in the last round. On the surface this vein shows three feet of ore. On the main ledge there is in sight a body of ore six feet wide. On both veins the ore is a massive galena carrying chalcocite.

Sawyer Bros. have returned from the Black Prince group of seven claims on Sawyer creek with a haul of $50,000 worth of work had been done. There are four leads on the property, all carrying gold and copper ore of good grade and the owners say the property continues to show up well. They state that the Climax, which adjoins the Black Prince group, is owned by Messrs. Carnegie and Dickson, has one of the most remarkable showings of copper ore in the country. The vein is five and a half feet wide and in a half foot wide on the surface, and in a 35-foot crosscut, giving 30 feet of depth, is eight feet wide. The vein is quartz carrying the copper and gold, and the values, which are equally distributed throughout the vein, so far as it has been prospected, are, it is claimed, well above the pay limit.

Lompney and Nelson, who have been working on their claims, the Hermina and Derby, adjoining the Commonwealth, on Hooker creek. Their ledge runs from one to two feet wide and gives an average assay value of $25 in copper, lead and silver.

Yesterday the Surprise recovered a large barge, which was badly damaged by the rocks. The machinery within which the barge was loaded was uninjured.

BOUNDARY OUTPUT.

Shortage of Coke Still Affecting the Returns.

Phoenix, Aug. 8.—(Special).—Boundary ore shipments for the past week are necessarily limited, as but few mines are on the shipping list on account of the coke shortage at all the smelters. The Granby works are the only ones that have been in operation this week, and for the most part with two of the four furnaces. It is expected that this smelter will blow out on Monday and wait for the coke supplies that are now expected in a short time, since the coal miners in East Kootenay have gone back to work after the shipment of the week are as follows: Granby mines, 5,451 tons; Emma, Summit camp to Nelson smelter, 145 tons; Providence, camp to Everett smelter, 5,656 tons; total for 1902, 289,021 tons. This week the Granby smelter treated 5,754 tons, making a grand total of 490,102 tons treated to date.

WORK ON THE FISHER MAIDEN

Report of Progress Submitted at Recent Meeting of the Directors.

The following report was presented at a recent meeting of the directors of the Fisher Maiden Troy mines, near Silverton: The company has just received a crown grant for the group of claims comprising the Fisher Maiden property. During the year $9,073.80 was realized from the sale of treasury stock. From the proceeds of the sale of stock the company has just completed a bunk house capable of accommodating 40 men, a new mess house in proportion, blacksmith shop, temporary ore bins, an office and assay combination building, which are located in close proximity to the present workings.

From the old workings, situated about 800 feet up the mountain, an overland haul made along the ledge at intervals down to within 15 feet of Four-Mile creek, where a tunnel was started. After going through 60 feet of wash, bedrock was encountered, and the ledge recovered. After drifting 40 feet the orechute was struck and followed 110 feet without a break, varying in width from one to eight feet and having an average width of 2 1/2 feet.

SID TO GO $80 TO TON.

The average value, based on the assays made by the company, was placed at $80 to the ton in silver and lead. Estimating the ore back at 50 feet from the tunnel to the surface would give $100,000 of ore above the tunnel level. The tunnel has been timbered to bedrock.

In driving through the orechute in the tunnel no ore was stopped, but about 100 tons of ore in the course of the development. After passing through the orechute of 110 feet the tunnel was continued on the ledge about 50 feet towards and under the old workings. While the ledge showed good quartz, the values were not there, but it is believed that with further drifting another orechute will be encountered, which is opened up in the old workings, and which when struck, will give a vertical depth of 600 feet, approximately.

SECOND TUNNEL UNDER WAY.

In order to make the property produce as soon as possible and to assist in paying expenses of development, instead of continuing the tunnel under the old workings, a second tunnel has been started directly under tunnel No. 1 at a further depth of 62 feet. The orechute of tunnel No. 1 is found to be continuous in tunnel No. 2. It is estimated that 1,000 cubic feet of ore will be blocked out between the two tunnels. Estimating 10 cubic feet of ore to the ton would give 1,704 tons. If assay value of $80 to the ton are maintained, this block of ore would be worth $136,320, or a total of $236,000 worth of ore from the second tunnel to the surface.

Tunnel No. 2 is now in and timbered for 150 feet, when more again encountered. The superintendent estimates that the men are now within 20 feet of the ledge and 100 feet from the orechute. The work is going ahead at the rate of eight feet per day, with three eight-hour shifts.

It is the intention to make an unraise as soon as the orechute in tunnel No. 1 is penetrated, and then stop out the ore and continue the tunnel in the old workings and into the orechute known to exist there. The superintendent estimates 1,200 tons of ore in sight above the first tunnel level.

A CARIBOO PROPOSITION.

Offer to Resume Work on the B. C. Milling & Mining Co. Property.

An offer has been made by a mining man now in Cariboo to pump out the property of the British Columbia Milling & Mining company and to bond the property for a very considerable sum, provided the directors of the company, after inspection, in his opinion justifies such a step. Many thousands of dollars have been expended by this company, which was organized in the early twenties, and was one of the first to try to develop the property during the great quartz boom of those early days. In addition to four crown-granted mineral claims, the company owns a complete 30 feet of depth, is eight feet wide. The vein is quartz carrying the copper and gold, and the values, which are equally distributed throughout the vein, so far as it has been prospected, are, it is claimed, well above the pay limit.

THE LE ROI.

High Grade Ore That Had Been Left in Dump.

Roseland, B. C., Aug. 8.—The success attending the shipment of ore from the Le Roi group has been rather remarkable. Lots of four cars have been shipped at one time to the Portland smelter, the tests of which indicated that the entire shipment carried no less than $40 per ton in gold values alone. Other considerable quantities of dump ore have been sent to the smelter, from which the values were almost as high. From this $40 grade the values have been sent down to the ordinary $10 and $12 ore, which the main body of the $12 ore. In June a profit of $22,000 was realized from the shipments of dump ore, and while the returns for July are not yet to hand, it is confidently expected that the returns will be equally as large despite the fact that the shipments of material from the dump were only about one-half as much as June.

The high grade ore was taken from a point where the material taken out in the sinking of the first Le Roi shaft was deposited and this fact accounts for the presence of such valuable rock. The report received from the smelter, which the Le Roi conditions and the cost of freight and treatment were such as to almost prohibit the shipping of ore, ran less than $35 or $40, and in consequence much material, as estimated under existing conditions, was placed in the dump. In the course of years this was covered up by less valuable material, and while the presence was known the exact value remained to be disclosed when the Le Roi people recently determined to remove the dump.

As the upper layer of material was taken off the value of the ore steadily increased until the present values of $40 per ton were attained.

Practically all of this unusually high grade material has now been shipped, and the rest of the dump remains to be sent to the smelter. The dump has been excavated down to about the center of the vein, and through the work it is
